available in English, French, German, Italian, Portuguese, Spanish, Dutch, Russian, and professional wine lovers.

Make scents of wine thanks to “Le Nez du Vin,” the learning tool for amateur wine lovers. Carmine clothbound book box, size 294 x 382 x 55 mm, weight 3.750 kg.

Exercises to teach you how to taste wines the world over.

A guide-book with a link between aromas and wine. The reference work by Jean Lenoir for training your sense of smell.

Plenty to get your nose into! A variety of great wines from all over the world (including champagnes). A general booklet on the sense of smell and wine-tasting. 12 illustrated texts explain how these key aromas appear and in what types of wine, with an informative booklet on the sense of smell and wine-tasting.

Focus on the 12 basic aromas found in red wine and white wine. 12 illustrated texts explain how these key aromas appear and in what types of wine, with an informative booklet on the sense of smell and wine-tasting.

Focus on the 12 basic aromas in red wine and white wine. Essential companion to the 54 aroma edition. The other essential companion to the 54 aroma edition.

Focus on the 12 basic aromas found in white wine and champagnes. Essential companion to the 54 aroma edition.

Focus on the 12 basic aromas found in red wine and champagnes. Essential companion to the 54 aroma edition.

Focus on the 12 basic aromas found in white wine and champagnes. Essential companion to the 54 aroma edition.

Discover six aromas that are to be found in a wide range of wines - or six aromas that are specific to rosé. To fix them in your mind is to give yourself the chance to recognize them when you find them in wines.

Le Nez du Vin® is the most original and efficient means of educating your scent memory. Keep it close to hand, use it regularly, and your sense of smell with be more finely tuned. The sense of smell is the sharpest of our senses and it provides 80% of our information. The inability to see, feel, taste, and touch is a huge handicap. It is not only a matter of the soul. Even worse is our failure to use our senses to the full. The sense of smell is the sharpest of our senses and it provides 80% of our information. The inability to see, feel, taste, and touch is a huge handicap. It is not only a matter of the soul. Even worse is our failure to use our senses to the full.

Jean-Philippe Derenne, Professor of Medicine

"The Nez du Vin provides you with the words you need to describe wine. Trade professionals, sommeliers, the off-trade and on-trade, lecturers, university oenological research centres, catering schools, oenologists, winemakers, wine clubs, and hundreds of thousands of wine lovers all use the Nez du Vin.

Now compare what you have discovered with the aromas identified in thousands of wines from all over the world, and you will be surprised how many other scents you will recognize. For example, you may have discovered apricot and melon in the former and lychee in the latter; in fact, you'll be able to identify most aromas easily identifiable such as a Sauvignon or a Merlot. Try to categorize them, put a name to them, then check. After a few weeks, you will have no problem pinpointing, recognising and naming the aroma, for giving us the means to identify, recognise and most importantly, put a name to aromas."

Jean Lenoir

The Nez du Vin® is a work of art thereby putting it on an equal footing with other art forms. Its originality astonished experts and amateurs alike. The kit has conquered the world! Its scents are startingly realistic, and they are guaranteed extremely stable. Practise with confidence. These aromas are the result of deep research and the work of Jean Lenoir and his team.

"Emile Peynaud, one of the world’s foremost oenologists, has written: "The Nez du Vin® is the most original and efficient means of educating your scent memory. Keep it close to hand, use it regularly, and you will acquire the essential abilities for appreciating, understanding, enjoying and山西省...""

Jean Lenoir fashioned the Nez du Vin® as a work of art thereby putting it on an equal footing with other art forms. Its originality astonished experts and amateurs alike. The kit has conquered the world! Its scents are startingly realistic, and they are guaranteed extremely stable. Practise with confidence. These aromas are the result of deep research and the work of Jean Lenoir and his team.

"Emile Peynaud, one of the world’s foremost oenologists, has written: "The Nez du Vin® is the most original and efficient means of educating your scent memory. Keep it close to hand, use it regularly, and you will acquire the essential abilities for appreciating, understanding, enjoying and"